INTRODUCTION.

This Catalogue comprises, besides a few small lots which have accumulated in the hands of the Messrs. Leavitt, since their last sale of Coins, three important Numismatic Collections. That of the Hon. Charles Furman, late of Charleston, S. C., and for many years President of the Bank of South Carolina, in that city, occupies exclusively that part of the Catalogue constituting the First Evening's sale.

Mr. Furman's collection is altogether fragmentary : nothing like series will be found in it, yet it contains many beautiful, rare and valuable pieces. His collection of Saxon Crowns, German Dollars, and old Medals is quite large, and important from the fortunate occurrence of several rarities ; chief among which may be mentioned the "N York" Medal and the one on the destruction of the Spanish Armada in 1588.

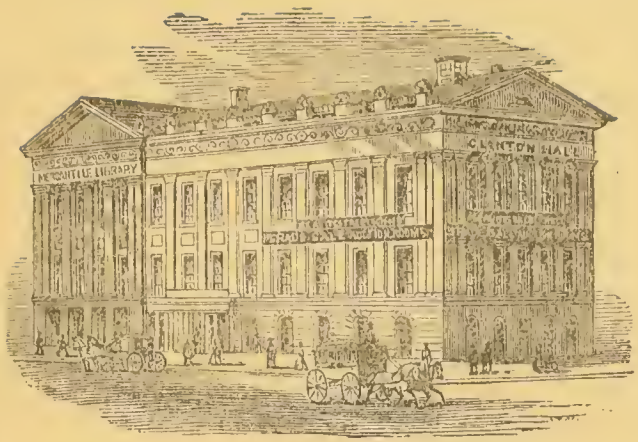

At the close of the sale of Mr. Furman's Coins, will be sold Eleven Paintings by Old Masters. It is earnestly hoped that connoisseurs will take the trouble to give these paintings more than a passing glance. That they merit it is undoubtedly true, and that they will prove so many prizes at any price which they are likely to bring to the Estate, is a safe but melancholy prophecy.

The Second Evening's sale will be made up of the contributions of a Parisian gentleman, and the several smaller lots already spoken of. In this department of the Catalogue very many beautiful uncirculated European Copper Coins will be found, some of them struck for circulation several centuries gone by—coins that we are accustomed to see, even in our collections, only in a worn and worthless state. Here too, are many fine Medals, the work of artists of reputation, besides several American Coins and Medals of great beauty and rarity. The Medals of the Popes, and the large and unequalled series of Admiral Vernon, are especially worthy of mention, as among the attractions of the Second Evening's sale.

The Catalogue concludes with the entire collection of the late Conrad Gersten, of Brooklyn. It contains many interesting and valuable pieces, besides articles that do not come under the head of "Numismatics." The friends of Mr. Gersten are reminded here, that they will have at the sale their last opportunity to provide themselves with mementos of their late friend, and while doing so, they will also perform an act of real and deserved kindness to the survivors of his family.

45 ——— Repetition of No. 44.

BRONZE.

46 NERO: laureated head to right. "NERO CLAUDIUS CÆSAR AUG. GER. PMTRPPMPPP;" rev. the Emperor with an attendant standing on an estrade addressing his soldiers.

Three figures standing on the ground beside a cippus. "ADLOCUTION," in exergue. This medallion may belong to the class contorniato. It is in rings of fine brass and copper, welded to form the planchet, and deeply grooved in circles on both sides as well as on the edge. It has strong claims to be considered an antique. Condition very good. Size 30.

47 HEBREW MEDAL: fac-simile of one in silver in the Oxford (Eng.) library. It bears the head of Jesus Christ, with the Hebrew name for JESUS. The reading on the rev. has been interpreted to be "MESSIAH THE KING CAME IN PEACE, AND MAN MAN WAS MADE LIFE. Size 24.

48 HEBREW MEDAL: similar to one in the Ashmole library at Oxford, which is engraved. This medal also bears what purports to be a head of Christ, with "MESSIAH" on the collar. On the rev. the words are rendered: "Nought can be ascribed to thee, O Elohim, of the fiery indignation which covered him." Size 23.

49 COMMODUS: bust of the Emperor in the character of Hercules; rev. a club, bow, and case of arrows. Very thick, size 24.

50 GORDIANUS III. (Pius): bust to the waist, wearing a heavy collar, holding a sceptre surmounted by a victory: rev. the Emperor in a chariot, preceded by his soldiers and attended by Victory. Very thick, size 24.

51 NERVA: his bust and titles; rev. temple, altar, and six figures. Thick, size 24.

52 ANTONINUS PIUS: rev. Quadriga. Pierced with four holes, size 24.

53 CLODIUS ALBINUS: bust and inscription; rev. "PANNONIE CURIA AEL." Two figures, one seated. Pierced, thin, size 24.

54 TITUS: obv. laureated head; rev. "JUDEA CAPTA." Female seated under a palm, a soldier behind. Size 22.

59 TRAJAN: Greek imperial struck in Egypt; obv. fine bust of Trajan; rev. eagle standing with outstretched wings, above a small naked figure between two busts. Very rare and fine, probably a modern counterfeit. First brass.

60 CLAUDIUS, AUGUSTUS, and TITUS. All fine, with rare reverses, first size, counterfeits, 3 pieces, 61 Greek Medallion in billon (same as No. 44), and one in brass. with Coptic characters beneath a Pegasus. Size of last, 24, 2 pieces.

62 DOMITIAN and two others. First and second size, 3 pieces.

63 HADRIAN: medallion in billon, doubtful, rare.

ROMAN DENARII.

NOTE.—As there has been no attempt on the part of the Collector to form a series, these coins will be entered in lots for the convenience of purchasers, without any regard to order or sequence. The few counterfeits which occur are originals, and are in every instance noticed.

64 AUGUSTUS: bare head; rev. bull butting. Good and rare.

65 AUGUSTUS: rev. bull standing. Good and rare.

66 AUGUSTUS: rev. his grandsons. Fair.

67 AUGUSTUS: rev. Capricorn.

68 TIBERIUS: laureated head; rev. woman seated. Sought for by collectors, and known as the "Tribute Penny." Good.

69 TIBERIUS and AUGUSTUS. Good reverses, fair, 3 pieces.

70 TITUS: rev. elephant. Good and rare.

71 VESPASIAN and TITUS. Fair, 3 pieces.

72 HADRIAN: different reverses. Good, 3 "

73 HADRIAN and TITUS. Fair, 2 "

FINE SILVER MEDALS.

101 George III., England: obv. laureated bust of the young king in his robes, his figure shown to the waist. "Georgius III., D.G.M. Bri. Fra. et Hib. Rex F.D.; rev. a harbor, three ships in the offing, military officer and savage seated under a tree on the shore; the two join hands, the Indian holding a long pipe. "Happy while united." In the ex. "1764." Attached to the top of the medal, and crossed, are a calumet and eagle's wing. N YORK in an incused square, and the letters D C F appear in the field near the center of the medal on the reverse, all of which are a part of the original design and work of the author. Size of the medal 48; with the loop or cross, 56. Condition very fine.

NOTE.—This medal is not quite unknown to American collectors but from its rarity has been seen by few. I have seen one other only, and esteem this much the more perfect and valuable. It has been called the Virginia Peace Medal, but improperly so called as the "N York," now for the first time noticed, proves.

102 JOHN DE WITT and CORNELIUS DE WITT, brothers, who were killed by a mob in 1671: obv. busts of the brothers, facing; rev. two naked and prostrate bodies torn and trampled by wild animals. A medal of the time struck up and tooled in separate pieces, joined and burnished. Very beautiful and rare, size 48.

NOTE.—John and Cornelius De Witt were Hollanders; they opposed the house of Orange, and were in league with Cromwell. See Cassell's Biograpical Dic. in loc.

103 RUDOLPH AUGUSTUS, Duke of Belginm, 1686: obv. the duke on horseback, armed; rev. coat of arms, "Remigio Altissimi." Burnished, and entirely uncirculated, size 43.

104 WILLIAM III., PRINCE OF ORANGE: obv. the Prince on horseback; rev. Fame on wings, blowing two trumpets: a shell. Work in high relief, and very fine, size 55.

105 BADGE, date 1741: obv. two figures standing, one pointing to an altar. "Ut Pater Fileos sic tu Cines;" in exergne, wolf and twins; rev. "Hic et ubique Amicitia Vincti, date in ex. The work rich and in perfect preservation, oblong, size 44–48.

106 KATHARINE, Empress of Russia, date 1762: obv. bust of the Empress; rev. a sacrifice. Very fine, size 32.

107 JULIUS, Duke of Brunswick, 1587: obv. the old Duke in armor, holding a battle axe; name, titles and date. (1587); rev. a wild man carrying an uprooted tree in one hand, and a lighted candle, hour-glass, etc., in the other. Size 34.

108 FREDERICK (The Great), 1752: obv. the King on horseback; rev. battle of Rosbach. Rare in silver, very good, size 31.

109 Sophia, wife of the Elector of Bruns. and Lun. 1693: obv. her bust; rev. a city, date in ex. Very good, size 31.

110 George I., England: obv. his bust; rev. "Laetitia Publica," 1714. Verygood, size 32.

111 Frederick Magnus: obv. fine bust; rev. Fame crowning a trophy. Very fine, size 28.

112 Charles II. (England) and Katherine: obv. their busts ingata; rev. a globe, "Diffusus in Orbe Britannus, 1670." Fine and very rare, size 28.

113 George III. and Charlotte, 1761. Pierced, size 24.

114 Charles III. (England): obv. bust of the Pretender, and his name and title as King of Eng., date 1766; rev. bust of Ludovica Regineo, 1777. In fine condition, and rare, size 21.

115 Moses Mendelssohn: obv. his bust; rev. "Phaeton," a skull, "Aatus 1740." Very good, size 28.

116 Medal with two busts. Ins., "Micat inter omnes, and "Alter ab Illo." No name or date, good work and condition, size 27.

117 Sede Vacante, 1801: rev. "S. Carolus Magnus Fundator." Shields and inscriptions numbering twenty. Fine medal, size 37.

118 George III., England: Coronation medal. Fair preservation, size 22.

119 Spanish Armada: medal struck to commemorate the destruction of the ships of Spain, and deliverance of the English nation in 1588: obv. a navy going down. "Tu . Deus . Magnus . et . Magna . Facis . Tu . Solus. Deus." Also in the upper field within the circle, "Veni Vide Vive 1588;" rev. a convocation of crowned heads and church dignitaries. "Durum * Est * Contra * Stimulos * Calcitrare *," and within the circle, as before, "O Coecas Hominum Mentes opectora Coeca." Very fine, gilt, size 32.

Note.—In a curious work entitled a Diatribe of Coins, by Edward LEIGH, dated 1671, mention is made of a medal in the Oxford collection having the destruction of the Armada on one side, and on the other a rock. The existence of such a medal was treated as of signal importance. It has struck me that the one now under consideration, and so far as I know now, first described in an American catalogue, is of the utmost interest to antiquarians and scholars. It is Treasure Trove to all intents, as the existence of such a medal in this collection was wholly unsuspected. I may add, to close this long note, that the style of the work refers the medal to the age of Elizabeth.

120 MARIE ANTOINETTE: obv. bust of the Queen, with her title, "Reine de France;" rev. Nemesis with scales and a torch. "Lucuse la Luce Extermine, 16th Oct. 1793," by Loos. In good, not fine condition, rare, size 20.

121 ACADEMIA PHILUBŒA: medal, "Anno 1409. Plantata." Minerva standing; rev. a city, large tree in the foreground. "Grandior Ætate." Fine, size 29.

122 LOUIS XIV.: obv. bust of the Grand Monarque. "LUDOVICUS MAGNUS REX;" rev. Musicians, in the exergue, "Memes la Plaisirs et l'Affaires de la Chambre, 1703."

123 LOUIS XV.: obv. bust of the King; rev. ship, "Faventi Ditabo" in the exergue, "Chambre de Commerce de la Rochelle." Counterstamped M.L. Extra fine, size 19.

124 LOUIS XV. Repetition of No. 123.

125 LOUIS XV. Same obv. as last; rev. different. Equally fine.

126 LOUIS XV. and XIV. Similar to those described, 2 pieces.

127 Medal struck in honor of a prince of England, born 29th May, 1630. A medal of the time, and quite interesting. Size 20.

128 OLD MEDALET: obv. an altar. P.M. Acad. Oxon, 1648; rev. "Deo Ecclesia Principi Victima." Has loop, very fine, size 19.

NOTE.—The piece just described was struck during the troubles of the unfortunate Charles I., just before his execution. As Oxford remained steadfast to his cause and person, perhaps the allusion on the rev. was to the King.

129 ANTI POPE Medalet: heads convertible, one from a Bishop to a Cardinal, by reversing the upright; the other, from a Duke to a Pope, by the same process. Thick, old and fine, size 18.

130 Copy of an antique medal and two modern Dutch medalets. Average size 18. 3 pieces.

GOLD MEDALS AND COINS.

131 Coronation Medal of GEORGE I., 1714: obv. the King of England's bust laureated; rev. his coronation. Fine proof, size 23. Nearly $20 intrinsic value.

132 RELIGIOUS Medal of FERDINAND VI., Spain.: obv. his head; rev. lamb and sacred banner, 1714. Thick, size 18.

133 LOUIS D'OR of 1694 (about $5.00) has the head of Louis XIV. Fair.

134 Spanish coin of Charles III. Quarter doubloon.

135 Small coin of Portugal, also one of Spain; each one-sixteenth doubloon. 2 pieces.

136 FERDINAND VI., Spain. Very fine dollar, 1754.

137 INDIAN PAGODA ($2.00 gold value): obv. five-pointed star; rev. rude figure. Fair.

138 Quarter guinea; George III., England. Bent for a

139 Mohar of India (about two pagoda). Pieced.

140 Quarter doubloon of Charles IV., Spain, 1791. Very fine; hardly circulated.

141 Heavy gold Rupee of India (value about $6.00).

142 Republic of Chili. Quarter doubloon.

156 Ducat of Joan.

157 Ducat of the Church; without date; gothic.

158 Fine coin of Frederick William of Prussia (about $5.00), dated 1789.

159 California quarter dollar.

160 Antique hemi-stater of the time of the Bactrian empire: obv. rude head; rev. a dragon. No ins.; fine and rare.

161 Antique Greek of the value of 5 drachmae: obv. young head; rev. a bull. Ins. not illegible, but requiring more time than is allowed here. A pretty little coin, and fine.

162 Unit of James I. of England, called also his "broad piece;" bears the king crowned, holding his sceptre and a mund. Fine and rare.

163 Edward III. of England, 1312 to 1377. Rose Noble (so named from the rose on the ship which bears the king, and the purity of the metal). Value, 1 guinea; not worn, but cracked; still fine and desirable, because rare.

CURIOUS SILVER COINS.

A MEDLEY.

228* Uncirculated pieces struck in 1524 and 1540: "Moneta Nova Brunswick" and "Moneta Nova Hamburg." They are better made than the English groats of that period, which coins they slightly exceed in size and intrinsic value. Very rare, 3 pieces.

229 Gothic groats, half-groats, and pennies in a good state of preservation, and interesting. 8 pieces.

230 Old groats in a high state of preservation; nearly all bearing gothic characters and legends. 8 pieces.

231 English and Saxon shillings: James I. and Augustus. 2 pieces.

232 Curious gothic piece or double groat, bearing a horseman riding at full speed. "Haroldus" is a part of the inscription. It can not be either of the kings of that name—who reigned in England before the coming of William I. from Normandy—but it is interesting and doubtless rare; this, and a triangular coin called a klippinger, size 20. Very beautiful and rare 2 pieces.

233 Maurice. Duke of Saxony, 1550, Ernest Augustus, 1692, and two others. Very fine, quarter dollar size, 4 pieces.

240 Indian coins. Rupees, 4 "

241 Indian coins. Rupees and smaller, extra fine, 5 "

242 Turkish and Indian. Good, and some rare, 8 "

243 Centenary medal or coin, struck in honor of Luther's Reformation. Bears figures of Frederick III. (1517) and John George (1617). Has loop, fine and rare, size 20.

244 Brunswick, half-crown of George III. 1778: rev. wild man. Very fine.

245 Portugal, 600 Reis, 1754. Fine.

246 Portugal, 640 Reis, 1699. Fair.

247 French, Spanish, Austrian, etc., coins and medals. Average half-dollar size, 8 pieces.

248 Statuettes: Wallenstein, Frederick the Great, Napoleon and one other. Solid silver, two inch size, 2 pieces; one inch size, 2 pieces, 4 pieces.

249 Antique charms from mummy cases. Egyptian glass. Authentic and curious, 3 pieces.

250 American Indian charm, with note from Hon. Charles Furman. Red pipe stone image. Curious.

251 Fossil fruit. Fine and rare. 2 pieces.

RARE AND FINE OLD CROWNS.

252 St. George: rev. ship in a tempest, the Saviour and many figures on deck. "In Tempestate Securitas;" without date. Very fine and rare, size 29.

253 Augustus. Braunsu: Luneb. Hertzog: bust with large rose over the left shoulder, head covered with a flat spiked or ribbed crown; rev. a harbor, plank leading from a ship to shore, figure in full armor just landed, another ship in the offing. "Allis Mit Beelacht," and in ex. "Jacta Ist Alea." Extremely fine, very old work; without date, size 28.

254 Sigismund, Duke of Austria: obv. full length figure of the Duke wearing a sword and carrying a sceptre; rev. warrior riding at full speed, "1486" under the horse. A beautiful crown of good work, and in remarkable preservation for so old a coin. Rare and desirable, size 26.

255 John Huss: obv. bust of the Martyr with covered head. "Credo Unam Esse Ecclesiam Sanctam Catolicam." JOA. HUS in the field, the two parts divided by bust; rev. Hus bound to a stake surrounded by faggots, "Centum Revolutis Annis Deo Responde Citis et Mihi." In the inner circle, "Jo. Hus Anno A Christ Nato, 1415, Condem Natur." Very fine, deeply interesting, and rare, size 27.

256 Crown or Medal, dated 1534: Latin and Dutch inscriptions in circles, in large Latin letters, on what appears to be the principal side. "Dat - Wort - is - Fleisch . Ge Worden . nn Wanet in Uns," in straight lines across the medal. Very fine and remarkable, size 31.

"Veritas vincit omnia cainm men nia Daciuin." On the rev. besides the King's name and titles, "Recte Faciendo . Neminem Timeas, 1598." Very fine and rare.

263 Beautiful Crown of Henricus Julius, Elec. etc. The principal side of the coin is filled with the figures of an eagle on the wing, and a lion seated; the former pouncing upon the latter, surrounded by a swarm of bees. No ins. "L * 99," may indicate the date, which, from the style, I suppose, may be 1599. Condition extremely fine.

264 Crowns of Rudolphus II. Imp. and Rex Rome, Austria, Bohem., Hungary, etc., etc., dated 1603, 1605, and 1611. Almost uncirculated, really beautiful, 3 pieces.

265 Christianus IV., Denmark, dated 1637: bust richly dressed and crowned; rev. lion with raised paw. Fine crown, discolored, but nearly uncirculated, rare.

266 The Historic Crown of Bruns. and Lunen., showing the bell and city, dated 1643. Three hands are shown pulling ropes attached to the bell stock. Extremely fine and rare.

267 The celebrated Cent. Anniversary Crown of Augsburg Confession, 25th June, 1530 to 1630. "Confess. Luther. Aug. Exhibitæ Seculum." Grand busts of Johannes and Joan George. Excellent preservation, very rare, size 30.

268 Crown of Fred. Alb. and Christian, of Brandenburg: showing their figures below the waist, dated 1627. Nearly as fine as when struck, extra broad, rare.

269 Dollar of Brunswick and Lunenburg, dated 1595: obv. man dressed in skins, bare head, loins girded (St. John the Baptist?), in one hand a torch, in the other a double headed spear, a dog by his side in the act of springing. "Henri . Juli . D. G. Post. Epis. Hald. Brune. Lun. P. P. C." ; rev. twelve shields in a circle, within, a triple arc of rays above a group of figures with raised hands, ins. Preservation extra fine.

270 Crown of Christian, John George, and Augustus, Dukes of Saxony. 3 figures on obv., date 1600. Considerably circulated, still good, rare.

271 Saxon Crown of the same Dukes, showing their effigies on a large scale. Their heads bare, richly dressed ; the eldest of the brothers with a drawn sword, the other two on rev., date 1607. Very fine and rare.

272 Saxon Crown of 1608. The figures of eight Dukes artistically packed upon the two sides. Really fine and rare.

273 Crown of John, Christian, George, and Rudolph, as Dukes of Silesia, Lignnia and Bre. (?) Two effigies on one side, shield of arms on rev., 1609. Fine and rare.

274 Beautiful Crown of John Casinier and John George (the former King of Poland) : showing their mailed figures below the middle; the rev. has one circle of ins., one of shields, and within both, a well executed figure of a cavalier carrying a banner, 1612. Extra fine and rare.

275 Broad Saxon Crown of John George, dated 1623. Very fine, size 29.

276 Saxon Crown of 1625. It bears on obv. three figures in rich robes, armed ; on rev. a single Duke. It is very fine and sharp, size 29.

277 Magnificent crown of John George, dated 1629 : it bears his picture in mail suit, with drawn sword. Hardly circulated. Size 30.

AMERICAN MEDALS AND COINS.

532 Admiral Vernon: medals in brass or bronze; 35 large,

5 small, and one oval-shaped of medium size, making 41 varieties.

A collection made long ago in England, and not to be duplicated. Most of the medals have never been in circulation, and not one is poor. The Vernon series, so long neglected by collectors on this side of the Atlantic, is now appreciated and justly esteemed; but, unfortunately, stray pieces (generally much worn) are only to be obtained at rare intervals No opportunity like the present has before occurred, and collectors would do well to take notice.

533 Admiral Boscawen: rev. bombardment of Louisbourg. 1758; made of the same material and in the style of the Vernon medals. Very rare.

534 Indian medal of George II.: "Let us look to the Most High who blessed our fathers with peace," 1767. An original medal pierced and worn by an Indian chief. In very good preservation and rare. Silver.

535 Libera Soror, 1782: a unicorn lying at the foot of a mountain of solid granite, his broken horn by his side, "Tyrrannis Virtute Repulsu;" in Exergæ, "Sue Galliæ Auspicei," by Hoetzhey. Silver; splendid proof, and very rare. A similar one brought $60 at a recent sale of Mr. Cogan's.

536 Foedere Junctæ, 1782: Fame supporting shields of the Netherlands and America over a lion's skin and club. Splendid proof in silver, by same artist.

537 German-American medal by Calker, 1782: America receiving the cap of liberty under the auspices of the German States. Silver; very fine.

538 Libertas Americana, 1783: the Commmni Consensu medal in tin. Proof; very rare.

539 Franklin and Montyon. Copper; very fine.

540 General Lafayette, 1777-1824: the defender of American and French liberty. Bronze proof.

541 George Washington: Manley medal from the original die. A very good one; bronze; rare.

542 George Washington: Voltaire medal; but little worn, but battered and abused. Still desirable; very rare.

543 Captains Crichton, Low, and Stouffer: testimonial medal by the City of Philadelphia; fine bronze proof; size 48.

544 Croton Acqueduct medal. Copper; fine; rare.

545 " " " tin " "

546 Pine Tree shilling, 1652, Extremely fine; no marks of circulation, also a variety far from common; rare.

547 Oak Tree shilling, 1652. Very ordinary; rare.

548 Oak Tree twopence, 1662. Very fine and rare.

549 Pitt token: no stamps, 1766. Very good; rare.

550 Continental Currency, 1766: tin. Original; in perfect preservation and rare.

551 Louisiana: "Colonies Francoises," 1721, 1722, and 1767, representing all the varieties; one stamped "R. F.," while one of the variety with two sceptres crossed is without the counter stamp. All fine. A rare set. 4 pieces.

552 Kentucky Cent: plain edge; very good.

553 Auctori Plebis: rev. "Inde et Liber," 1787.

554 Vermont cent: "Vermonts res Publica;" fine; dark.

555 George Washington cent, 1791: rev. large eagle. Magnificent proof.

556 George Washington: "Success to the United States;" large size; brass. Very good.

557 George Washington: Temperance Medalet. "We serve the Tyrant Alcohol no longer." Silver, fine and rare.

558 Non Dependens Status: rev. America. A curious piece; compare with Robinson's piece of that title. Copper.

559 U. S. A. Bar Cent. Uncirculated, original, rare.

560 Half-dollar of 1795. Almost uncirculated, very rare.

561 Half-dollar of 1805. Fine for date, rare.

562 Half-dollar of 1807. Fine for date, rare.

563 Genl. Wm. H. Harrison: "Resolution of Congress." Battle of the Thames, Oct. 5, 1813. Pierced, extremely fine, silver.

564 Massachusetts and California. Pattern in silver for 5 dollars. Very fine, rare.

574 Cent of 1817. Uncirculated.

575 Cent of 1818. Red, slightly nicked.

576 Cents of 1820. Brilliant, 2 pieces.

577 Cent of 1836. Nearly uncirculated, good color, rare.

578 Cent of 1837. Equally fine.

579 Half-cent of 1795. But little circulated, thin planchet.

580 Pattern cent, 1854. Proof, rare.

581 Pattern cent, 1855. Tarnished proof, rare.

582 Pattern cent, 1856. Tarnished proof, rare.

583 Pattern cent, 1864. Engrailed edge, very rare.

584 Columbia farthings. One red and uncirculated, rare, 2 pieces.

585 Woman and Sister: Woman in chains. Uncirculated.

586 Shin-plasters, 1837. Uncirculated, 5 pieces.

587 Copperheads. No duplicate, many rare, 40 "

588 Medals of the Popes. A representative series from Linus, the immediate successor of St. Peter (A.D. 66) to Pius Ninth. A list of these medals, would, with many omissions it is true, be a list of the Bishops of Rome. Such a table I cannot stop to make, and besides, it would serve no useful purpose. It would be a pleasant and instructive task, were time and space allowed, to refer to the many important events in the world's history inseparably associated with some of these names. Take as examples, St. Gregory the Great, who, in the sixth century, sent the Monk Austen to England to convert our Anglo-Saxon ancestors. URBAN, the second of that name, under whose auspices Peter the Hermit went forth to preach the first crusade. CLEMENT VII., who denounced the marriage of Henry VIII. with Anne Boleyn, and who was told by that festive old Briton that, He would have his fools-head to know that in things temporal he suffered no man to interfere with his pleasure. GREGORY XIII., who, when he heard of the massacre of the Protestants in 1572, gave glory to God, and ordered a Medal to be struck, representing an angel with a sword in one hand and cross in the other, with this motto, "Hugonothorum Strages."

But it must suffice to say, that here is a medallic history of the Popes. The pieces are all in good order, many of them extremely fine and all deeply interesting. The earlier one have been modeled and cast, but most of them were struck from dies. With a single exception the metal is bronze. The number is 110 pieces.

589 Medal Caricaturing Sir Robert Walpole and the Duke of Argyle. In brass, fine and funny.

590 Province of Canada: token of the Bank of Montreal, 1843. Has the head of the Queen; and on the rev. the Bank building. I think it is rare; I cannot remember of having seen another like it. Extra fine.

591 WM. J. MULLEN'S Card: established 1828, New York. Very fine and rare.

592 Small coin of John Casmir, Poland, and two of Charles I., England. The former with a head of the King of Poland. In copper. Farthings of the period, very fine and rare, 3 pieces.

593 Crown of Ferdinand III. Austria, 1645. Fine.

594 Dollar of Ferdinand VI. of Spain. Stamped with the letter G. R. (George Rex) for circulation in China. Fine and rare.

595 Dollar of Maximilian, Emperor of Mexico, 1866.

596 Half-dollar. The same.

597 Ten cent and five cent. The same. Both fine and rare, 2 pieces.

598 NAPOLEON BONAPARTE: a medal bearing his bust, given as a prize for vaccination in the year 1800. Half-dollar size, fine proof, silver.

599 GEORGE III.: obv. of a Bank of Eng. token; the rev. accidentally incursed by another coin. Size 2s. 6d., sterling, fine, silver.

600 EMANUEL DE ROHAN of Malta, Grand Master. Coin of the dime size, very fine and rare, silver.

602 Commonwealth. Two Pence and Peter Pence, 2 "

603 Symbols, Masonic? Viz. Two keys crossed, two mallets, also crossed, a pair of daggers and a five pointed star. All of fine silver, 4 pieces.

NOTE.—These symbols have been used together, showing the same workmanship, and being of a corresponding size, they are worthy the attention of the curious.

604 War Envelopes. Patriotic and Rebel. A collection of 1500 varieties in colors.

605 War Envelopes. Similar to the above, but cut for mounting. The open side of the envelope removed. Sold as 1,000 picees, but exceed that number.

NOTE.—The designs upon these envelopes have their value to the historian as well as to the antiquarian. They record many facts as well as the humors and passions of the hour, and in the days to come, will be interesting to those who are to come after us.

606 New varieties of gold and silver coins, counterfeit coins and bullion, with mint value. By Jacob R. Eckfeldt and William E. DuBois, assayers of the mint of the United States. Philadelphia, 1850, illustrated.

607 Dialogue on Medals, by Addison. Wants the covers, but the text complete, with illustrations.

608 Miscellaneous coins. A collection made by an amateur, and sold as one lot. The most valuable pieces are Rosa Americana Penny, 1723, Crowned Rose; and cent of 1795—two really desirable coins, but little the worse for wear. Then there is an excellent cent of 1803, with several half-cents almost uncirculated; a fair Massachusetts cent of 1788; two fine Turkish piasters (silver), and many others. No duplicates. In all, 47 pieces.

609 Acquisitions of another amateur, beginning with Colonials, of which there are of Franklin cents, 6 pieces.

610 Connecticut cents. A very fair lot, 15 "

611 New Jersey cents. 3 "

620 Political Campaign Medal of WM. HENRY HARRISON: obv. military bust of the General; rev. log cabin, Union flag flying over it, and a file of nine soldiers marching. "The peoples choice. The Hero of Tippecanoe." Tin, pierced, very fine, rare.

621 Fireman's medal, two metals; Wide Awake, do do All proof, 4 pieces.

622 Centenary of American Methodism: bust of FRANCIS ASBURY. Brass plated, proof.

623 DAVID M. LYLE. Fine medal by Key. Struck to commemorate his death, Nov. 23, 1867. Tin proof.

624 Pike's Peak Twenty Dollar Piece. Copper, uncirculated.

625 JOHN TRUMBULL. The Art Union Medal. In copper, dark, but fine, rare.

626 Dollars of 1795 and 1798. 2 pieces.

627 Half-dollars of 1794, 1805, 1815, and 1819. 4 "

628 Dimes, including many rare dates. Unfortunately much circulated and worn. 12 pieces.

629 Half-dimes, of little value for a collection. 7 "

630 Three cents. Silver, all dates, and good. 16 "

631 Small silver coins. Average half-dime size. 6 "

632 American cents and half cents. 200 of the former and 55 of the latter. The cents, complete set of dates without the 1799, taken from circulation. 255 pieces.
633 Box of miscellaneous copper coins. 52 "

THIRD EVENING'S SALE.

THE COLLECTION OF CONRAD GERSTEN,

Late of Brooklyn, deceased.

AMERICAN COLONIAL COINS AND MEDALS.

634 Pine Tree shilling. Fine, rare.
635 Pine Tree shilling. Pierced, rare.
636 Pine Tree shilling. Struck over an old coin, considerably worn in parts, yet far from being poor, probably unique.

NOTE.—The original coin bore a round shield of arms, intersected by a cross. What was remarkable about the piece in its original state, was that the inscription was incused or sunk into the metal.

637 Pine Tree six-pence. One of Wyatt's, fine.
638 Virginia penny. Fine proof. rare.
639 Georgius Triumpho. Very fine, rare.

765 Three cents from 1851 to 1861, including both the first and the last. The pieces very fine, generally uncirculated. 11 pieces.

CENTS.

766 1793. "One cent" in a wreath. Very desirable, rare.
767 1793. "One hundred for a dollar" on the edge of the cent. A rare variety and in very fair condition.
768 1793. With Liberty cap. Extremely fine for date and variety, one of the best, very rare.

NOTE.—I have often heard Mr. Gersten say twenty-five dollars had been offered him for this cent. Certainly it is well worth the money.

769 1793. Of this date, the Liberty cap, link, wreath, and a broad leaf, variety of the latter. Certainly not fine, but by no means the worst ever seen. 4 pieces.
770 1794. Ordinary, much circulated. 3 "
771 1795. Thick cent, lettered on the edge. Very good, cleaned but not worn, valuable.
772 1795. Thin cent. Cleaned, but almost as sharp as an uncirculated coin. A good companion to the last.
